I would politely and respectfully consider the Board to recommend myself to hold the position of Chief Training Officer at CCSSEF. I held said position from 2014- Jan of 2021. During my tenure we had zero safety violations from any/all visiting instructors or instructors who are currently members. I own/operate Runenation, an education company for any/all interested in the idea of self-preservation and confidence building.

I travel all over the United States putting on seminars, therefore having a wider scope of view than most as to not only how other people teach but also to see how other ranges operate. This in turn allows me to bring back knowledge to the Board in order to facilitate future growth of the organization.

I would love the opportunity to once again be in charge of training at CCSSEF. It truly is a diamond in the rough. It would be my pleasure to once more bring not only outside education for all members and guests, but to bring all discipline directors together – to be united – and do what's best for the organization as a whole.

Thank you for your time.

Best,
